LADS AND LASSES

Be it known Good King Henry and his most Beauteous Queen Caroline pro-claim this a time of Renaissance Revelry. All cares and woes are hereby banished from the village grounds and smiles are required apparel for all.

Be thee new to our village? There are certain rules of protocol thou shouldst be well acquainted with lest thee anger the nobility and find thyself in the stocks.

IN THE PRESENCE OF ROYALTY: Ladies curtsey and Lords doff thy hat and bow thee to the earth.

and bow thee to the carth.
The King and Queen shouldst always be addressed as "Your Majesty."
When asked "Is this not the King?", thou shouldst reply in a most hearly voice "YEA, VERILY, YEA!"
When asked "Is this not the Queen?", thou shouldst reply with proper feeting. "YEA, (Sigh), YEA!

thou shouldst repty with proper yearing, "YEA," (sigh), YEA!"
And thou must needs take care to never, never, never belch before the King. Let the King go first.

When thee finds thyself in the presence of the Lord fligh Sheriff of Nottingham and are asked if this is not the Sheriff, thou will find it most natural to reply "YEA, (give the raspberries), YEA!"

The official cheer of the Renaissance The official cheer of the Renaissance is HUZZAH! (pronounced HA - ZAH!). Shout HUZZAH to the King, HUZZAH to the Queen, HUZZAH to all the delights the day shall bring you.

TAKE CARE! Hold tight your young ones when you pass near the gypsies lest your loss become their gain.

must yield the way to a cart and horse; a cart and horse must yield the thing yields to an elephant.
